Jauron Speaks to Alumni After Signing 3-Year Contract; Voted Coach of 1956

Head coach Bob Jauron, whose sophomore-studded St. Joseph's Pumas battled Montana State College to a muddy scoreless tie in the first annual Aluminum Bowl game Dec. 22, has been chosen by the Knute Rockne Club for the George Gipp Award as the Little All-American Coach of the Year.

Newspapermen, sportcasters, and other athletic officials from all over the country selected Jauron over a formidable list of other nominees which included Tony Storti of Montana State and Dewey Alford of Morningside College in Sioux City, Ia.

The award will be presented to Jauron and to Forest Evashevski, head coach of Iowa's Rose Bowl champions who was chosen as major college Coach of the Year, at the annual testimonial dinner Mar. 4 in Kansas City.

Jauron has been in the college coaching ranks only three years, all at St. Joseph's. During the past season the Puma junior took 20 sophomores, 11 juniors, and two seniors and guided them to eight wins in nine games. With six sophomores in the starting line-up St. Joseph's thundered through six Indiana Collegiate Conference games to win their first undisputed conference title. Came In 1954

To climax the season the Pumas were selected by the NAIA to play in the nationally televised Aluminum Bowl game in Little Rock, Ark., Dec. 22. A heavy, all-day rain forced the Pumas to abandon their heralded aerial game and nullified the effectiveness of four fast backs who had averaged seven yards a crack during the regular season. Instead they had to stick to straight, conservative football, similar to the style of play used by Montana State all year. Result—a scoreless tie.

When Jauron came to St. Joseph's in 1954 the College was

Fr. Raphael H. Gross, president of St. Joseph's, announced at a testimonial dinner for head Coach Bob Jauron in Chicago Jan. 30 that the Puma mentor had signed a new three-year contract.

The announcement, not made public until then, drew a spontaneous roar of approval from the 350 Alumni, friends and College officials who had gathered in the Casino Cafe of Tomorrow at 75th and S. Halsted to pay tribute to Jauron for the most successful football season in St. Joe history.

Terms of the contract were not disclosed, but Jauron commented that he signed at a "substantial raise." Father Gross said the head mentor had turned down several other "more lucrative" offers because "he likes it here at St. Joseph's."

An additional incentive to Jauron's decision is that he has all but two men—halfback Ray Banary and fullback Paul Scherschel—returning next season from the 33-man 1956 co-national championship squad.

Following a chicken dinner, the toastmaster, Judge Frank Stodola, '46, of Hammond, Ind. and director of the Lake county Alumni Chapter, introduced Father Gross. The president, rhetorically saving his announcement of the new contract until the last, first gave credit to the 37-year old coach from Nashua, N.H., as the man responsible for the rise of St. Joseph's football fortunes.

Making best use of the somewhat dramatic atmosphere which Father Gross' news had created, NAIA Little All-American quarterback Ralph Tite of Chicago presented an inscribed plaque to the coach on behalf of the squad; and George Byerwalter, '50, and Joe McGrath, '51, directors of the Chicago Chapter and co-chairmen of the dinner, presented a check to Jauron on behalf of the Alumni.

Jauron then took over and thanked his assistant coaches, Dale O'Connell and Bob Shemky, for their invaluable help and expressed the desire that they would

Industrialist To Address Grads

Mr. Joseph L. Block, president of the Inland Steel Co. of East Chicago, Ind., will give the baccalaureate address to the graduating seniors at the College's 62nd commencement exercises Sunday, June 2.

Mr. Block will also receive the honorary Doctor of Laws degree at the ceremony.

Born in Chicago in 1902, Mr. Block attended Cornell University before joining the sales department of Inland Steel in 1924. His appointment to an assistant vice presidency in 1927 triggered a series of promotions which terminated in 1952 when he was named president of the company.

Mr. Block was also a chairman in the steel division on the War Production Board in Washington during World War II, is a vice president and director of the Community Fund in Chicago, is a director of the Illinois Institute of Technology; was a director and president (1947-50) of the Jewish Federation of Chicago; and is a vice president and director of the Association of Commerce and Industry.

His office is located at 38 S. Dearborn st., Chicago, Ill.

Inland Goes to SJC

The Inland Steel Co., of East Chicago, Ind., is sponsoring a liberal arts program at St. Joseph's Calumet Center in Hammond. The classes, held in the Extension's main building at Bishop Noll high school, began Feb. 1.

The courses, each worth three semester hours of college credit, are in general psychology, principles of economics, business and technical writing, and fundamentals of speech. Enrollment is limited to 20 in each course.

The company pays the cost of tuition and books, and the Inland students attend classes one evening a week on their own time. The students must enroll for the entire two-year course.

As in the year before the largest number of contributors—262—fell in the five-dollar category while 230 Alumni donated $10.00. These two groups comprised two-thirds of the total number of contributors and gave 28 percent of the total amount. The largest single donation was $1,000.00.

The names of the 745 Alumni who contributed to the Second Annual Alumni Fund, together with the range of contributions, appear on page three.

We Hear . . . .

from MERRILL, Wisconsin

In the issue of Contact, vol 19-No. 3, December, 1956, the statement is made that Bishop Marling is "The only living bishop in the Society of the Precious Blood."

What about the Most Reverend Clement Geiger, C.P.P.S., Prelacy of the Zingu, Altamira, Estado do Para, Brazil? To be a member of the Society of the Precious Blood it is not yet necessary to be an alumnus of St. Joseph's College. Its houses in Italy, Germany, Spain and South America are as truly members as those in the States.

Perhaps a belated after thought. How many Alumni radio hearers and TV viewers, after all the pleading in advance, sent their station a card of thanks?

Sincerely yours,

REV. T. F. KRAMER, C.P.P.S., '01
HOLY CROSS HOSPITAL
MERRILL, WISCONSIN

Ed.: Our apologies to Bishop Geiger.

from SONOMA, California

At present I am with the Navy and stationed at the U.S. Naval Radio Station, Skaggs Island, Sonoma, California. My release from active duty will be in June, 1957. At that time I hope to return to school and continue my graduate work which was interrupted by my naval service.

In the latter part of the summer after I graduated from St. Joseph's, I married a hometown girl, moved to Urbana, Illinois, and entered the graduate school in the fall semester. That January, the Navy called me to active duty and sent me to Officer Candidate School in Newport, Rhode Island. It was rather hard to leave the University since I was doing quite well and we were very satisfied with our location.

After four months, they gave me a commission as an Ensign and ordered me to Guam. It was a little disheartening to receive orders to such a place, but my wife was able to join me on Guam as soon as our first son, Joe Jr., was old enough to travel. Guam may not look like very much on a map, but it is that proverbial "South Sea Island Paradise." We spent eighteen months on the island and enjoyed every one of them; in fact we sometimes wish that we were back there right now.

At the end of that tour of duty, we received stateside duty here in California and welcomed our second son, Mark Steven. Right now we are anxiously looking forward to the time when I will be released from active duty, though my present duties, which include educational counseling and guidance, conducting group study classes in mathematics, and other specialized training, are quite interesting. I guess that the service life is just not for us.

If all goes well, we hope to stop by St. Joseph's on our return to the Midwest and hope very much to say our "hellos" in person at that time.

Very respectfully,

JOSEPH A. PETERS, '53

Jauron Signs . . .

be with him for a long time.

He voiced his gratitude to the College administration, "without whose cooperation and help we would not be here tonight," and he particularly singled out Fr. Joseph A. Otte, former SJC treasurer now recovering his health in California, as the man behind-the-scenes who worked, "with due respect to all others involved, the hardest" to promote today's football prestige.

Most emphatically of all he thanked the "26 or 27 men" on his 33-man squad "who might not have the greatest athletic ability in the world, but who are the greatest competitors in the world, and that's the kind of ball player we want."

Jauron also urged an active rather than a passive participation of the Alumni in the College's athletic program. He solicited their aid by way of attendance at the ball games and by way of helping to find good athletes if the program is to continue as a successful one and if "we want to have these dinners for the next three years."

"The only way a man can be selected as coach of the year," said Jauron, "is to have the ball players. They're the ones that win him the award. Without them, he is just another coach."

"There's not much to it when you have a losing club. When I came here in 1954 we were called the doormat of the conference and they were glad to see us in the league. Now they're not so sure and are really after us. Once you reach the top, it's the toughest job in the world to stay there."

Kanne Honors Squad

The members and coaching staff of St. Joseph's football Pumas were honored Jan. 16 at a dinner given by Al Kanne for the squad in the two private dining rooms of the Rensselaer restaurant.

The testimonial was in recognition of St. Joe's participation in the Aluminum Bowl. The entire 33-man squad was present along with the coaching staff and officials from the College and Rensselaer. Postmaster Wendell Martin of Rensselaer was the toastmaster.

Following the dinner Brother John Bruney and Coach Bob Jauron showed movies of the game and festivities in Little Rock.

considering dropping football because of a dismal post-war record. In that year Jauron cleaned house and started from scratch; with eight freshmen in his starting line-up he won five out of nine games.

In 1955—still with only one senior on the roster—he finished with a 6-3 mark and the co-ICC championship. Thus, during his three-year tenure at St. Joseph's, Jauron has compiled a 19-8-1 record—and this year he will lose only two men by graduation!

Played at Boston College

The 37-year old Puma mentor played his college football under Frank Leahy at Boston College, where he participated in the Cotton and Sugar Bowls. In 1942 he received his B.S. degree in Education.

After three years of military service, Jauron set off on a remarkable high school football career which started at Sioux Falls, S.D., where he won 10 straight. (Here he also met his wife, the former Miss Katherine Strain, and has since become the father of five children.) After that he spent three years at Miles City, Mont., (24-4-1); three years at Illinois Manuel High school in Peoria, Ill.,

We Hear . . .

from GIBSONBURG, Ohio

In the September issue of Contact in "We Hear" nobody of the present generation there seemed to know who Natsy Wagner was. Well he is Fr. Ignatius Wagner now. There are only four of us living that started out with him in Xavier Hall. His name was Ignatius and we called him Natsy for short. They tried out several of the smallest boys there to be William Tell's son in the play and Natsy was the only one who could stand still with the apple on his head and keep a straight face long enough to take a picture of the play and play the part. He used to stop and see us when he was a young priest and later he became President of the College and then Provincial of the Order.

During the past month I received a letter from several old friends who were in the St. Joe Family at the beginning of this century. One of these was from His Excellency Most Rev. William R. Arnold. I did not ask his permission to make his letter public but wanted to share some of his good news with some of his other old Alumni friends. Quote: "October 23rd, Dear Ed: How surprised and happy I was to read your letter in the recent copy of Contact. I remember very well the incidents you mention and still have fond and inspiring memories of my life at St. Joe's and am proud of the friendships which have continued for so many years. I enclose a recent photo when I was confirming soldiers up in Alaska. I am 75 but have to fly nearly 100,000 miles a year on Confirmation trips for Army, Navy, and Air Force. I no longer look like George Washington. With my fervent prayers-Bishop Billie"

It is an excellent photo of him with his blessing. We have given it a place of honor in our living room to remind us of the graces of his blessing. With the rest of his old friends and Alumni we have followed him in the news and thru Contact with our prayers and best wishes as a boy at St. Joe and when he was chief of Army chaplains; then in 1945 when he was elevated by Pope Pius XII to titular bishop of Phocaea and delegate of the Military Ordinariate.

I remember Decoration Day at St. Joseph's, 1901. The college had just received a share of surplus rifles left from the war with Spain and disarmed the old muskets of the civil war. St. Joseph's College Battalion was invited to take part in the exercises in Rensselaer. Major William R. Arnold was Commander that year. We watched with admiration as they marched in parade with their neat uniforms and shining rifles. At the cemetery they were standing in position to fire a volley of salute over the soldiers' graves. Major Arnold had given the command "Ready-Aim" when an old civil war veteran jumped out in front of their guns and declared that he would not let any Catholic shoot over his brother's grave. The A.P.A.'s were pretty strong at that time. There was a halt. Our Rector Fr. Benedict Boebner made a little speech, saying that they had been invited and came there as they had done several years before, but if it caused such a disturbance they would not come back anymore. The mayor then made a speech to apologize for the actions of the old vet. I often wondered if they ever went back. Anyhow we know Bishop Arnold by his example has done much to overcome such prejudice.

With best wishes to Fr. Ildephonse and Brother David, old timers I know, and to the rest of the Alumni.

(27-3); one year at Western Military Academy in Alton, Ill., (3-6); and one year, 1953, at Chaminade High school in Dayton, O., (9-1). In his nine-year high school coaching career Jauron's teams won 73, lost only 14 and tied one. Thus, added to his St. Joe mark, Jauron in 12 years of coaching has compiled the outstanding record of 92 wins, 22 defeats and two ties.

Pumas Do Switch, Cop Six Straight

St. Joseph's much-improved cagers, winning four out of five games in January, ran up a six-game winning streak before being bounced at Ball State in the last three minutes, 77-73. The battle at Muncie Jan. 19 was the last before the two-week break for semester exams. The Pumas closed up shop for the first semester with a 7-7 season mark and a 2-4 Indiana Collegiate conference record. They resumed play Feb. 2 at Butler.

The six-game winning streak came on the heels of six consecutive losses. The nose-dive ended abruptly and the victory string began in Chicago where the Pumas swept the Catholic College Holiday tourney by whipping St. Mary's of Winona, Minn., and Lewis College.

Coach Dale O'Connell's quintet of Greg Jancich and Bill Lewis at forwards, Dan Fenker at center and Danny Rogovich and George Lux at guards returned after the holidays and proved that the tournament victories were no accident. They had finally knitted together as a unit and, with timely help from forward Angelo Datomo and guard Ray Banary, they roared past Indiana State, 71-62; Butler, 83-67; Wabash, 72-66; and St. Ambrose, 78-63 before getting patted at Ball State.

Paced by Rogovich's 27 points and Fenker's 23, the Pumas avenged a 3-point defeat at the hands of Indiana State just three weeks before by building up a 40-33 halftime lead and holding it through the second half for their 71-62 win, their first in conference play after three consecutive losses in December.

Reach Peak Against Butler

But the highlight of the winning streak came during Butler's annual visit to Collegeville Jan. 8. The Bulldogs came in fresh from a sharp 86-84 win over Notre Dame on the Irish court, where the Pumas had been drubbed earlier in the season, 98-55. Despite the fact that Butler had not beaten the Pumas on the Collegeville court for four years, the Bulldogs, led by Ted Guzek and Bobby Plump, were heavily favored over St. Joe and were considered the team to beat for the conference crown.

Nevertheless, St. Joe threw up a tight zone defense which befuddled the Bulldogs and the Pumas extended a 45-34 halftime lead to 64-49 with eight minutes remaining and coasted in without much trouble. The Pumas actually won the game from the free throw line; out-shot 27 to 24 from the field, they dunked in 35 free throws out of 48 attempts while Butler could garner only 13. Rogovich and Guzek led the scoring with 24 points apiece.

This stunning upset was followed by a 72-66 victory over Wabash, who was also St. Joe's victim in the opening game of the season before the Pumas went on their six-game losing streak. St. Joe held a 32-24 margin at intermission and was in command all the way. The Little Giants decreased a 16-point gap in the last three minutes when O'Connell cleared the bench. Fenker led the Pumas with 18 points.

Beat St. Ambrose

The final victory in the six-game string was a hard-fought, 78-63 win over St. Ambrose, despite a 35-point effort by the Bees' 6-6 sophomore forward Bernie Brennan. The Pumas held only a 33-29 lead at halftime and the outcome looked dubious; but Lewis got hot at the outset of the second half as he gunned 11 straight points into the net to give St. Joe a 46-37 margin. St. Ambrose repeatedly threatened to close the gap until Banary took over and netted 12 points in the last five minutes to clinch the victory. Lewis paced the Pumas with 22 points.

The honeymoon ended after 37 minutes of the Ball State game. With 2:59 to go, the Cardinals, who were working on a seven-game winning streak themselves as well as the conference lead, finally overtook the Pumas at 70-69 and went on to win, 77-73.

The defeat was characterized by an unusual and sudden collapse on the part of the Pumas, for with seven minutes remaining St. Joe held a comfortable 65-48 lead. But at that point Ball State began putting on the press, which the Pumas have had trouble handling all year, and in the final seven minutes the Cardinals scored 29 points while holding St. Joe to eight.

Rogovich paced the Puma scoring with 19 points.

Rogovich Sets Pace

St. Joseph's unpredictable cagers, currently playing at a .500 clip this season, are being led in scoring by 5-7 Danny Rogovich,

STOCKS

When you give a stock certificate to St. Joseph's College, you get credit for its full value as a deduction as a contribution on your income tax, and you also save the capital gain tax on the increase in value. In this way, if you are in a high income bracket, you can make a large gift at a relatively small cost. It helps the college as fully as though you had no advantage and it is appreciated at its full value.

who is averaging 17.5 points a game. The diminutive sophomore playmaker from Chicago has picked up right where he left off last year when he also paced the squad as a freshman with an 18-plus average.

Behind Rogovich is sophomore forward Bill Lewis, with 14.6; center Dan Fenker, 12.7; guard George Lux, 9.5; and forward Greg Jancich, 6.9. This starting five, which Coach Dale O'Connell has whipped into a coordinated unit after considerable experimentation at the beginning of the season, stands at only slightly more than six feet, which is hardly very tall in this era of cage giants. They give up at least two inches per man against most of their opponents, who have averaged 48 rebounds per game against the Pumas' 43.

Chicago Concert Slated for Mar. 3

The fourth annual Chicago Choral Concert will be presented Sunday, Mar. 3, at 2:30 p.m. in Thorne hall, 740 N. Lake Shore drive at Superior ave.

The concert, sponsored by the St. Joseph's Fathers club, features the combined voices of the College Glee club, under the direction of Fr. Lawrence Heiman, and the chorus from St. Joseph's Extension in Hammond.

Admission for the concert, a major SJC cultural event in Chicago, is 50 cents.

The next major event of the College Mothers club will be the spring card party at the Merchants and Manufacturing club in the Merchandise Mart May 3.

"All Alumni," emphasized Fr. Richard P. Baird, admissions counsellor, "are urged to take part in the two events."

Don Cossack Chorus To Perform at SJC

The original Don Cossack Chorus and Dancers will appear at St. Joseph's College Feb. 20 as the third performance in the College's 1956-57 Concert series.

The all-male chorus, comprised of "24 strapping six-footers," is conducted by the famed Serge Jaroff, who is 4 feet-10½ inches tall.

The group originally came from Russia and was crystallized into present-day form in Bulgaria in 1922. Since then they have sung in virtually every country in the world except Red China and Soviet Russia and have become internationally renowned. They have been presented in more than 7,800 concerts, have appeared in movies, on the radio and television and on numerous recordings for both Columbia and Decca.

Change Calls for Two New Halls, Not Three

Plans for the construction of three new student residence halls, as reported in the last issue of Contact, have undergone a change. Present plans now call for two new halls instead of three.

The College had originally figured on three two-story dorms which would house 80 students each. The final decision, to save costs, is to construct two three-story halls housing 120 students each, thus affording the same amount of living space (240 students) as had been planned on the original blueprint.

TROPHIES HAVE BECOME THE FAD around the St. Joe campus in recent months. At the left is the Indiana Collegiate conference championship trophy, the first one brought home by the football Pumas this year; in the center is the five-foot tall Aluminum Bowl trophy and Aluminum base, which the College will keep until the end of June when they will ship it to Montana State in Bozeman as a result of the tie Dec. 22; and at the right is the trophy brought back by the basketball team after winning the Catholic Holiday Tournament Dec. 19 and 20 in Chicago.
